Academic Affairs
Office of the Provost and Vice President

Aug. 13, 2018

Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to announce the appointment of three Q2S directors in place of the current structure under Dr. Kim Costino. These appointments are effective Aug. 21, 2018.

Grace King, who currently serves as the Q2S project manager and has been leading the technical conversion, has been appointed Technical Director. She will oversee the technical conversion and continue her duties as project manager.

Tom Provenzano, a faculty member in the Department of Theatre Arts and longtime chair of the University Curriculum Committee, will serve as Q2S Curriculum Director. Dr. Provenzano, who has been a member of the Q2S Steering Committee since its inception, will oversee the remaining tasks related to the curriculum, conversion/transformation and the post-curriculum development work.

Craig Seal, dean of Undergraduate Studies and a member of the Q2S Steering Committee, has been named Q2S Advising Director. Dr. Seal, who has played an integral role in the development of the Q2S advising plans, will oversee the implementation of these established plans.

Please join me in congratulating Grace, Tom and Craig on their new appointments. I would also like to thank Kim for her outstanding efforts and leadership as Q2S director; and wish her well in her new position at Cal State Dominguez Hills.

Best,
Shari
