

When to apply for higher education?

Hello! Do you think school is not for you or maybe you have actually never thought you could attend school? My name is Jaime Espinoza; I am a civilian working at the Veterans Success Center (VSC) at CSUSB. I assist with admissions for veterans to the university. From my experience at the VSC I come across student's veterans who think school is not for them are you one of them? Yet, they want to have a great paying job. I'm not making this blog to make you apply to CSUSB but, making it for you to take a chance on education. Growing up my parents told me that I had to go to school. It was either that, or start paying rent. Guess what I chose? Yes, you are correct I attended school. Maybe you didn't have someone to tell you to attend school; now you do.

How to choose the correct school?

“CSUMentor is a website designed to help students and their families learn about the California State University (CSU) system. The CSU is comprised of 23 excellent campuses. CSUMentor assists students in planning for college, in selecting the appropriate CSU campus to attend, in planning how to finance their education, and in applying for admission (CSUMentor.com)”. This means that you can explore any campus. You can even choose what population school you want to attend. For example, if you want to attend CSUSB and want to know about this university in particular you can simply click on the tab explore campus and choose California State University, San Bernardino. This is like a one stop shop for CSU's.
