

ORD is pleased to offer the highly successful Productive Online Writing

ORD POWWA Intersession Writing Intensive 2024

with Accountability (POWWA©!) program with CSU Fullerton professor, Terri Patchen, Ph.D., January 2-12, 2024. Want someone in your corner to support your writing? Want to write when it works for you – with no unnecessary meetings? POWWA is for you!

Terri will be there to help you advance your writing goals this intersession.

POWWA will help you:

- Align your writing with your publishing aims.
- Be accountable to your writing deadlines.
- Advance your writing in a safe and productive space with someone who has supported faculty writing successfully across all disciplines, at all levels.

ORD-POWWA program expectations:

- Attend the initial (and only) POWWA meeting virtually on December 12, noon-12:30 pm (if you can't make the meeting, you can still POWWA)
- Commit to writing two hours a day, January 2-12, 2024 – you can do it!
- Send Terri pages every other day.
- Meet your writing objectives by the end of intersession – sweet!

Register for POWWA by emailing Terri (tpatchen@fullerton.edu) by December 8, 2023.

Workshop limited to 8 participants – apply now – spots go quickly!! Questions about the workshop content or format? Email Terri at: tpatchen@fullerton.edu

Not sure POWWA is for you? Check out these CSUSB testimonials:

Terri was amazing! She had super helpful insight and encouragement.

She helped me value my output. I experience her as very positively reinforcing – her feedback and my working relationship with her led me to keep writing more consistently.

POWWA got me excited to write again, helped me (re)identify as a writer, and made an impossibly stagnant project seem possible again.

Sponsored by the National Institute of Health