You're invited to join us for a special discussion featuring Dr. Daniel Gascón, Assistant Professor of Sociology in the College of Arts and Letters at the University of Massachusetts Boston. He co-authored the book, The Limits of Community Policing: Civilian Power and Police Accountability in Black and Brown Los Angeles (NYU Press, 2019), which examines the Los Angeles Police Department's community policing initiatives after the Rodney King riots. Drawing on over sixty interviews with officers, residents, and stakeholders in South LA's "Lakeside" precinct, The Limits of Community Policing astutely illuminates how police tactics amplified—rather than resolved—racial tensions, complicating partnership efforts, crime response and prevention, and accountability.

Professor Gascón, a CSUSB alumnus, earned a Ph.D. in Criminology, Law, and Society from UC Irvine. He completed both his bachelor's and master's in Criminal Justice at Cal State San Bernardino.

The program is part of the ongoing Conversations on Race and Policing series, hosted by CSUSB students Marlo Brooks and Yvette Relles-Powell.

Series organizers: Dr. Mary Texeira (Sociology), Dr. Marc Robinson (History), Robie Madrigal (Pfau Library), Dr. Jeremy Murray (History), Marlo Brooks and Yvette Relles-Powell.
