

“Over-Policing of Black Girls in Schools: From Zero Tolerance to Restorative Practices”

A Student-hosted Panel Discussion with Students, Faculty, Staff, and Campus Guests

Wednesday, October 14, 2020
4 P.M.

Zoom link: <https://csusb.zoom.us/j/97960458784>

Panelists:

Dr. Angela Clark Louque

Dr. Angela Clark Louque, Professor of Educational Leadership at CSUSB, is the co-author of the recently acclaimed book, Equity Partnerships: A Culturally Proficient Guide to Family, School, and Community Engagement (Corwin Press, 2020). Her research focuses on anti-racist and equity leadership to dismantle racist and exclusionary policies and practices, such as zero tolerance, that contribute to the school-to-prison pipeline. Website: drangelaclarklouque.com

Dr. Shelley Holt

Dr. Shelley Holt is the Founder and CEO of Leadership Legacy Consulting, LLC and Family Legacy 5, a non-profit focused on eliminating pipelines to prison and poverty by creating pipelines to career and life success for traditionally underserved, depressed and oppressed populations. As a former superintendent, she serves as a racial and educational anthropologist in anti-racist leadership development. Website: leadershiplegacyconsulting.com

Felicia Jones

Felicia Jones (fjones@copesite.org) is the Associate Director and Chief Strategist with Congregations Organized for Prophetic Engagement \(COPE\), a grassroots community group that develops and organizes leaders to “revitalize the communities in which they live, work, and worship” through systemic change. She has worked extensively in education reform, guiding policies to expand the role of parents and community in education policy-making, advocating for resource equity for Black student achievement, and supporting local and statewide campaigns for school discipline reform. Website: <https://copesite.org>

Dr. Talisa Sullivan

Dr. Talisa Sullivan is the Founder, CEO and Lead Consultant for Transformational Leadership Consulting (TLC) Services. Her experiences include serving as a school administrator in the Inland Empire, using Restorative Practices as an equitable disciplinary practice. She is an equity leader and the creator of Q10 Equity Framework. Website: <https://transformingleaderstlc.com>

Series organizers: Dr. Mary Texeira (Sociology), Robie Madrigal (Pfau Library), Dr. Jeremy Murray (History), Stan Futch (President, WAG), Marlo Brooks, and Yvette Relles-Powell.

Click here to view previous panels in the Conversations on Race and Policing series.