Dear Interested Fitness Assessment Internship Student,

Our Fitness Assessment Program at California State University, San Bernardino is located in HP 126 laboratory. As a student you are required to complete at least 5 hours a week of fitness assessments over the 15-week semester to fulfill your requirement for KINE 2500 course. To be considered for this internship you must have taken at least KINE 3800.

Throughout the semester you would refine your testing skills and test over 80 individuals, which include: heart rate, blood pressure, skin folds, flexibility, grip strength, push-up test, and sub-maximal aerobic cycling test. During the 15-week period you will become more comfortable and skilled at administering fitness assessments, communicating information effectively, and understanding the importance of cardiovascular disease risk factors.

If you are interested in this internship, please prepare the following documents and information seen below and submit all materials at this link.

- Contact info
- Schedule availability for quarter applying
- Answers to a few questions (see below)
- 2 References
- Cover letter and Resume

Please feel free to ask any questions and we look forward to your application.

Sincerely,

Nicole C. Dabbs, PhD, Co-Director, ndabbs@csusb.edu
