4. SERVICES:

4.1. Academics:

4.1.1. Course in selected field of study shall be taught by Professor_____.
IAP shall provide a staff member to all itinerary site visits and excursions. Learning will be conducted through these site visits and excursions.

4.1.2. IAP affiliated faculty shall be available for guest lectures if such involvement is deemed beneficial to the program by IAP and CSUSB. Guest lectures must be arranged in advance and may incur an additional cost.

4.2. Housing:

4.2.1. Students

4.2.1.1. IAP shall provide CSUSB student participants with housing in Italy in double and triple occupancy rooms in student-shared apartments and hotels. Apartments will be furnished and equipped with fans or air conditioning. Students will have a utility allotment. If exceeded, the excess will be divided by number of students in that apartment and students will be charged individually the appropriate amount. If placed in hotels, occupancy will be double or triple and students will receive daily breakfast.

4.3. Liability for housing damages

4.3.1. Students will be financially responsible to IAP for any damages caused to their dwellings during the period of their occupancy. Accordingly, IAP reserves the right to recover the cost of repairs from students residing in a particular dwelling, if said damage is shown to be the result of the students' tenancy. In the event that such damage occurs, IAP shall notify the student in writing no later than two weeks after the program's completion date. IAP shall notify CSUSB in writing of the damages at this time. Such notification shall include a detailed description of the damage incurred and shall be accompanied by supporting documentation. IAP shall submit an invoice for said damages to the student no later than four weeks after the program's completion date.
