Season's Greetings,

The holiday season, starting with Thanksgiving Day and into the new year, is my most favorite time of the year. It's a time for giving thanks and spreading good cheer...a time for gathering with precious family members and friends...and, for many, a time for reflection.

As I look back over this past year, I am reminded of how fortunate I am to work alongside each and every one of you. I'm both honored and proud to be a part of such an impactful university. I hope that you are, too. From supporting regional and state needs, advancing research and scholarly activities, bringing new instructional approaches and technology to the classroom, and graduating our 100,000th student this past June, we have much to reflect on and to celebrate this season.

Thank you all for your many contributions. I wish you and yours a wonderful holiday season and look forward to partnering with you in 2019!

Warm wishes,

Shari McMahan, Ph.D.
