

PHILOSOPHY, POLICY & ECONOMICS

This minor aims to provide students with the intellectual tools necessary to understand the big ideas behind our most important social questions. Many of those questions - such as debates over health care, environmental regulation, and homelessness - are inherently interdisciplinary. They involve economic questions about the way in which markets work or fail to work in certain contexts; philosophical questions about the nature of fairness, liberty, and equality; and policy questions about the feasibility of various forms of regulatory control. This interdisciplinary minor helps students to think critically about those questions, and thus provides them with skills and perspectives that go beyond those of their individual majors.

MINOR IN PHILOSOPHY, POLICY & ECONOMICS

Twenty-One (21) Units: With a minimum of six (6) units in each field

Philosophy:

PHIL 3330	Social and Political Philosophy
PHIL 3350	Philosophy of Law
PHIL 3355	Jurisprudence
PHIL 3390	Topics in Value Theory
PHIL 4300	Advanced Issues in Value Theory

Economics:

ECON 3101	Political Economy of Southern California
ECON 3103	Environmental Economics
ECON 3105	Political Economy
ECON 3109	Political Economy of Women
ECON 3125	Economic History of the United States

Political Science:

PSCI 3100	Classical Political Thought
PSCI 3110	Foundations of Modern Political Thought
PSCI 3130	Modern Political Thought
PSCI 3150	Post Modern Political Thought