

Provisional Accommodations Agreement for Students

Occasionally, Services to Students with Disabilities (SSD) may be unable to fully assess students for eligibility and accommodations. This could mean that documentation submitted does not fully meet assessment criteria or is out of date. To ensure that students with documented disabilities are provided with accommodations so that they can obtain the necessary documentation so that SSD can perform a full assessment, academic accommodation may be recommended on a provisional basis and under the following conditions:

1. The student will be placed on a waiting list to complete the intake process and/or updated learning disabilities assessment.
2. The student agrees to complete the assessment at the time that his/her name is reached on the list. For students that require an update to learning disabilities assessment, who choose to seek an assessment outside the University, will be provided a list of community referrals and the Documentation Guidelines for Learning Disabilities. At the time that the intake/assessment is completed, the student's services will be reviewed and revised according to the functional limitations noted resulting from the intake assessment. Should a student not pursue assessment at the time that his/her name is reached on the waiting list, then the student shall forfeit his/her provisional accommodations.
3. The provisional academic accommodations are limited to the student's current academic program within the University. Having received provisional accommodations at the University does not automatically guarantee accommodations in contexts outside the University. It is the student's responsibility to provide complete and appropriate documentation to other academic institutions and standardized testing services when requesting accommodations. The student's documentation may not be adequate to obtain accommodations on state or national tests, such as the CBEST, GRE, MCAT, LSAT, or GMAT.
4. Provisional academic accommodations will be reviewed on a term basis.

I have read and understand, and agree to the above statements regarding Provisional Academic Accommodations
