Dr. Celia Martínez-Sáez is an Assistant Professor of the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures at California State University, Fullerton. She received her Ph.D. in Spanish and Latin American Literatures and Cultures from The Ohio State University in 2019. Martínez-Saéz's research focuses on masculinities, gender violence, race, and performance in 21st century Spain. She has published multiple articles in prestigious journals such as Letras Hispánicas, Artelogie, the Afro-Hispanic Review, and the Bulletin of Spanish Visual Studies, among others. She is also the creator and advisor of the theatre group in Spanish at CSUF, where she devises original plays inspired by CSUF students' real-life stories.

Performance pedagogy incorporates art and community building practices that deepen our understanding of different identities, as well as activism, literatures and cultures. This workshop explores performance techniques through exercises and games for the creation of safe and critical spaces in the classroom.

The workshop will be conducted in Spanish
