Message from the Director for Spring 2024

“Learning is a daily experience and a lifetime mission. I truly believe in the saying, ‘We work to become, not to acquire.’” – Bill Russell

The heart of the value of OLLI is that it promotes personal development. Learning is a lifelong journey, and acquiring new knowledge and skills boosts self-esteem and confidence. It’s about enhancing our abilities, whether in our careers or personal lives, leading to a more resilient and adaptable society. But it’s not just about individual growth; our OLLI fosters community and social cohesion. Lifelong learning encourages interaction and engagement with like-minded peers. The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at CSUSB offers the perfect combination of in-person socialization and stimulating classes. At OLLI, there are no exams or grades, and reading is always optional. Our Spring 2024 semester at the CSUSB Palm Desert campus on Cook Street offers 3-week and 6-week courses that will stimulate your mind, body, and soul. Membership will be discounted to $50 beginning March 18 and gives you access to many speaker events as well as fairly-priced courses and fun, educational travel! There are a variety of options, such as in-person classes on our campus, online via Zoom, or hybrid classes, where you can choose between the two. The spring semester begins on April 8th and runs through June 20th, 2024. Stay curious!

Kind regards,
Angela Allen, CSUSB OLLI Director

EACH ONE REACH ONE CAMPAIGN

Help us reach our goal of reaching 500 members by June 30, 2024! We have made so much progress in the last few months and we are in the final stretch. The Spring term is a wonderful time to invite your friends, family, and neighbors to join OLLI!

You can keep up with our progress in our online newsletters or by stopping by our office!

We need about 100 members more to meet our goal!

Will you help us?

Discounted membership for the Spring Term!

Only $50!

Discount begins March 18

Beginning Tai Chi for Seniors
Maureen Dowling, retired Correctional Sergeant, Certified Tai Chi instructor
The benefits of practicing Tai Chi include relaxation, balance of mind and body, improved circulation, and general health and well-being. It’s a tradition of purposeful movement and principles of mind-body awareness and self-protection. It includes gentle movements that teach us to move in a more intentional, healthier way. It is a dance with all the energies of life that leads you to open your heart and mind. A student should dress comfortably, be prepared to be patient with their own individual practice, relax, and enjoy Tai Chi and all it has to offer.

Tools to Overcome Anxiety
When Speaking to a Group
Cindy Sardo, award-winning TV news anchor/reporter/producer, Media Consultant and Coach
“There are only two types of speakers in the world. 1. The nervous and 2. Liars.” — Mark Twain
Do you have a “fight or flight” response when you’re asked to speak in front of a group? You’re in good company — even Gandhi, Abraham Lincoln, and Warren Buffet tried to avoid public speaking. This interactive workshop will provide you with specific tools and methods to become a skilled and self-confident communicator in various roles: presenter, public speaker, consultant, committee leader, or spokesperson. By practicing and performing the tools in class, you’ll develop your individual style and discover your “hidden” personality.

The Art of Breathing
Katherine Robinson, BA, Certified meditation and mindfulness teacher
There is nothing more essential to our health and well-being than breathing. We take in air and let it out about 25,000 times a day. If breathing is such an important part of our health and well-being, how come many of us never stop and think about it? Katherine will teach us why the breath is so important, and most of the population is breathing improperly, causing all sorts of negative side effects. We will learn how to breathe.

Music Controversies and Curiosities
Emanuel Abramovits, MBA, Mechanical Engineer, concert promoter
Music has often been a source of controversy. In their goal for originality, musicians sometimes push the envelope too far and pay the price. Let’s analyze some of these controversial pieces. Some of them were revolutionary ones that challenged established norms and created discord. Some even created moral panics that led to cries for censorship when they were released or decades later. It happened in classical, pop, and music for the stage and screen. In this course, I will use audiovisual examples of music that created public controversy and will complement them with anecdotes from my years as a concert promoter.

Formation of Our Valley
Kerry Berman, Certified Interpretive Guide, conservation ambassador, tunnel rat
This course will cover the creation of the Sonoran Desert 150 million years ago and the geological activity that followed. We will also cover the struggles and challenges that the Native American Cahuillas faced, such as how this harsh desert environment was tamed by the pioneers, culminating in one of the most famous vacation destinations in the world. Today, our desert is a unique environment that may be referred to as the renewable energy capital of North America, with the presence of wind, sun, hydro, biomass, and geothermal alternatives.

The Science of Oppenheimer
Fred Abramson, PhD, chemist, pharmacist, George Washington University School of Medicine
The movie “Oppenheimer” focused on the Manhattan Project, the huge, secret enterprise to build the first atomic bomb. While a stirring narrative with wonderful acting, “Oppenheimer” explains little of the science of the bomb. That story begins in 1896, when two French scientists, Henri Becquerel and Marie Curie, discover radioactivity. For the next 40+ years, this observation initiated many discoveries (fission) and inventions (enrichment devices and accelerators) that had much wider applications, such as producing energy or isotopes for medicine. Along the way, a new kind of bomb emerged.

Promise/Peril: Three Documentaries on the Jewish Journey to America and Palestine
Bernard (Butch) Epps Jr, MFA, Film aficionado, academic liaison, writer
This series of documentary films examines the modern history of the Jewish journey in America and Palestine. The first focuses on the Orthodox and Reform movements and the Ashkenazi entrepreneurs who crossed the Atlantic Ocean, creating new American identities during the mid-18th century in America. The second is the story of a ship's historic role in breaking British Palestinian rule and the establishment of the state of Israel. The third focuses on the rise of Arab and Jewish nationalism when the seeds of conflict were first sewn in Ottoman-ruled Palestine. Documentary names can be found in the online course description.

Religious Architecture & Design: From the Roman Catacombs to Modern Times
Eleanor Schrader, MBA, distinguished instructor UCLA Extension
The intent of religious art and architecture is to uplift the mind with artistic imagery. This course will explore the influences of symbolism and pictorial representations of religious images in Europe. Topics include the ancient catacombs of the early Christian and Jewish periods during Roman times, glittering Byzantine and Romanesque design, the grand structures of the Gothic, Renaissance, and Baroque eras, 19th-century Victorian and historical revivals, and the sleek forms of 20th-century architecture. Methods, materials, and construction techniques are included as they pertain to art, design, and architecture in Christian, Jewish, and Islamic design.

Classic Coming of Age Films
Frank Furino, MFA, writer, producer, former staff director with ABC News
Embark on a cinematic journey with six classic coming-of-age films, including “Summer of ’42,” which beautifully navigates adolescence amidst World War II, while “Little Women” brings Louisa May Alcott’s timeless tale of sisterhood to life. Join Forrest Gump on an extraordinary life journey in the eponymous film and explore the comedic yet poignant complexities of love in “The Heartbreak Kid.” “500 Days of Summer” and “American Pie” offer a non-linear exploration of romance and personal growth. Together, these films form a diverse tapestry of human experiences, capturing the universal themes of self-discovery, love, and the challenges of growing up across different eras and perspectives.

Getting What We Need: How U.S. Diplomats Deliver Our Nations
Joseph Manso, JD, U.S. Ambassador for the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW)
We look at stories of historic moments when U.S. diplomats delivered for the United States. These range from ending a war (the end of the Revolutionary War, the Mexican War) to preventing a war (the Caroline Case, avoiding British/French intervention in the Civil War). Others look at entering the world stage (the Open Door policy in China, post-WWII). We consider Roosevelt’s reaction to the nationalization of the Mexican oil industry and the negotiations to create the UN Security Council. Each is a fascinating tale featuring big personalities. Of course, we also take an inside look at how diplomacy works.

Crisis and Greatness: The U.S. Presidency in Film
Bernard (Butch) Epps Jr, MFA, Film aficionado, academic liaison, writer
What makes a man or woman rise above others to assume the mantle of leadership? What set history’s great leaders apart from their contemporaries and enabled them to navigate often tumultuous waters? Some theorists have argued that these questions are answered by the Great Man Theory of Leadership. Through this prism, we will look at the examples of six extraordinary U.S. leaders in times of great personal and/or political crisis as represented in the following six films: “Lincoln” (2012), “Wilson” (1944), “Warm Springs” (2005), “Thirteen Days” (1999), “Jackie” (2016), and “All the Way” (2016). A discussion will follow each film.

The Sixties in America: From Rebellion to Rights to Commodity - Jeff Rice, PhD
Our class on America in the 60’s will ask some simple but also complex questions like: why did people rebel when they did, who rebelled and who didn’t, what came out of the rebellion, and did it cause the rise of conservative politics in the U.S.? We will look at: Civil Rights, Vietnam, the rise of Feminism (round 2), the Green Movement, and the exit of the traditional unionized working class from the Republican Party. We will begin with “When did the 60’s start and when did they end?”
Mondays from 8:00 AM - 9:30 AM PST
April 1 through May 6

Psychology Fundamentals: A 101 Overview - Andres Gvirtz, PhD
Welcome to “Psychology Fundamentals: A 101 Overview”, an introductory course designed to provide a broad yet insightful glimpse into different areas of psychology. We will learn more about how psychology can help us understand humans’ individual personalities as well as group dynamics. We are going to look at the influence of geography on psychology as well as what psychology can learn by becoming more cross-cultural. Whether this is your first step into the world of psychology or you are looking to deepen your existing knowledge, the discussions around classic studies, as well as the presentation of novel research findings, promise something new and exciting for everyone.
Thursdays from 8:00 AM - 9:30 AM PST
April 4 through May 9

Human-Animal Connection - Jennifer Baker, PhD
Much research is currently being done on how humans and animals communicate and interact with one another. There are institutes at universities, books to read, and articles online about what your dog’s facial expression means, or what your cat’s scratching behavior might indicate. Researchers such as Jane Goodall and Temple Grandin (to name just a few) live with animals and can tell us how they experience the same emotions as we do, and what their thoughts might be. The interesting practice is how that comes out in our everyday lives – all the way from what we eat to how we interact with our household pets. In this course, we will talk about and understand the latest research, what that means for human beings, and how this will continue to affect our co-existence in the future.
This course will have a heavy student discussion component, coupled with lecture and media.
Wednesdays from 4:00 PM - 5:30 PM PST
April 10 - May 15
Corner’s Last Case Performed by OLLI’s Reader’s Theater
- Jeff Fisher
Wednesday, April 3 from 2:00 PM - 4:00 PM, PDC, free, open to the community
Join us for an OLLI first! Our Reader’s Theater students will be acting out the short play Corner’s Last Case by Martin Ward. This play is a comedy whodunnit in two short acts! Reception to follow play.

Hollywood Secrets and Scandals - Sue Cameron
Friday, April 5 from 1:00 PM - 2:30 PM, Hybrid, free, members only
Come and hear the exciting new, behind-the-scenes stories from the person who was in the room when it happened! Learn about legendary leading men, hear stories about TV icons, and be entertained with tales of rock ‘n’ roll legends. Discuss the journalism of celebrities, and the secrets and scandals surrounding some of Hollywood’s most famous actors and musicians.

CSUSB Aging Well Series

Optimizing Your Health Journey - Insights & Benefits with a Nurse Advocate - Dr. Tammy Porter
Tuesday, April 9 from 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM, Hybrid, $10, open to the community
Are you or someone you love facing difficult medical decisions? Dr. Porter offers guidance on maneuvering through health crises, whether it’s for you or someone you’re caring for. Delve into topics like hospitalization, recovery, assisted living, medical procedures, billing, and more. Equip yourself to be informed, secure, and proactive in your path to wellness.

Intergenerational Project - Dr. Sarah Dunn
Wednesdays, April 10, 17 & 24 from 9:00 AM - 10:15 AM, PDC, free, members only
OLLI members, along with CSUSB PDC KINE students enrolled in a Physical Activity and Aging course, will meet three times in April for a unique intergenerational experience. Those OLLI members that attend will discuss their overall health and wellness status and goals with the students, with the hope that they will gain valuable insight into the importance of staying active (mentally and physically) to prevent disease risk and to support longevity in life. Three days of conversation around lifestyle behaviors to support better cardiovascular, muscular, cognitive, neural, immune, and thermoregulatory health will create a unique lifelong learning experience for both OLLI members and students.

Making Retirement Work Series

Strategies for Financial Freedom - Robert Schein
Wednesday, April 17 from 10:00 AM - 11:30 AM, PDC, free, open to the community

Embark on a comprehensive journey toward securing a comfortable and financially stable retirement with our class, “Financial Freedom in Retirement.” This course is designed to empower individuals with the knowledge and skills needed to prepare for retirement, emphasizing prudent financial planning and wise money management during the golden years. Learn essential strategies for building a robust retirement fund, navigating investment options, and making informed decisions to ensure a financially secure and fulfilling retirement. Explore practical approaches to managing money wisely during retirement, including budgeting, investment withdrawal strategies, and safeguarding against unexpected financial challenges. Join us to gain the confidence and tools needed to make retirement truly work for you.

How to Squeeze All the Juice Out of Retirement - Dr. Ken Shultz
Thursday, April 25 from 4:00 PM - 4:45 PM, Zoom, free, members only

In this relatively short 45-minute session, we will watch a recent 12-minute TED Talk titled “How to Squeeze All the Juice Out of Retirement” by Riley Moynes, followed by a half-hour discussion on practical strategies to realistically implement some of the suggestions provided in the TED Talk, based largely on the suggestions from Dr. Shultz’s 2015 book, Happy Retirement: The Psychology of Reinvention – A Practical Guide to Planning and Enjoying the Retirement You’ve Earned.

How to Flourish in Your Retirement - Kevin Nourse
Tuesday, May 21 from 5:30 PM - 7:00 PM, PDC, free, open to the community

A fulfilling retirement is more than just financial planning. Too many people focus only on their financial goals but neglect to consider other life domains. As a result, they enter retirement and either flounder or return to their full-time jobs! People who flourish in retirement intentionally design their third act based on their core values, considering wellness, community and support, learning, achievement, fun, and their legacy. In this interactive course, we will explore the most recent research on flourishing in retirement, identify and explore core values, and explore various domains of successful retirement. You can exchange ideas with others in the class about how to retire with intention. This course is ideal for those facing retirement or who are recently retired.

Thank You to our Community Partners!
We combine the responsiveness and flexibility of an independent, personal firm with the depth of services and experience from a broad range of investment management companies.

Blanke Schein Wealth Management is a concierge-style wealth management firm that combines the responsiveness and flexibility of a boutique practice with the depth of services and investment insight of Hightower, a national wealth management firm. We help individuals, families and small business owners navigate strategic financial decisions and guide them through life transitions. Our success is a result of our belief that clients come first, and is founded on the principles of dedication, integrity and transparency. Our legal and fiduciary obligation to our clients form the foundation of everything we do. Knowing that our advice must prioritize their interests, our clients can be confident that our recommendations are focused on their needs while being transparent and free of conflict.
