

This morning at University Convocation, I invited the campus community to review the final report of the Diversity Mapping Initiative, which took place on campus during the 2019-20 academic year. This report will serve the university as a guide for our future efforts in diversity, equity, and inclusion at CSUSB. The report sits on the CSUSB Diversity and Inclusion website, but a direct link to the report is below.

My best wishes to everyone as we begin the 2020-21 academic year.
