Off-Campus Scholarships

Off-Campus Scholarships

Off-Campus Scholarships are administered by other organizations not affiliated with CSUSB. Organizations such as community organizations, private companies, religious affiliations, etc.

Remember, the more applications you submit the better your chances are that you will be selected as a recipient.

Off-Campus Scholarship Sites

- FastWeb
- Bold.org
- Going Merry
- Scholarships.com
- ScholarshipOwl

Local Organizations

Don't forget about your local network. Look for scholarship opportunities with nearby community foundations, rotary clubs, and even restaurants. Do a search for these kinds of organizations in your community and see if they have a list of scholarships on their website.

Tips for Completing Funding Applications

Be prepared to:

- < Develop a well-written and thought-out project/topic.
- < Reflect on how a commitment to diversity and underserved populations may be demonstrated in your written statement.
- < Provide an overview of you plan to use the money and resources.
- < Respond to all the prompts.

Megan's Writing Tips for Grants and Scholarships

- Develop a format based on the given prompt to organize your thoughts and ideas. Remember, you are telling a story through your Personal Statement, and a concise narrative for your reader to follow will be crucial.
- Be sure to make it your own, try to avoid cliché and boilerplate language. Use your own experiences to make the statement more personalized to you, this will help it stand out more!
- Address all questions stated in the given prompt.
- Always proofread your statement before you submit it. Reading it aloud can help catch errors, as well as asking a 3rd party to review it.
- Take your time! Give yourself about a week to work on a Personal Statement, don't rush it.

First drafts
don't have to be perfect.
They just have to be written.
