Money Matters

For International Students

Managing finances in a new country can feel overwhelming – but you don't have to figure it out alone. Join us for a practical session on budgeting, saving, and understanding the U.S. financial system as an international student. Get tips you can use right away to make confident money decisions and set yourself up for success.

Resilience Across Borders

Wednesday Nov 19
Coyote Hour

A Mental Health Conversation.

Studying in the U.S. brings exciting opportunities, but it can also present unique challenges. Join CAPS, SAS, and ISSS for an open conversation on navigating stress, cultural adjustment, and the impact of immigration policies and current events. This interactive session is a space to share experiences, learn strategies for well-being, and connect with support on campus.
