

Dear Coyotes and Colleagues,

One of the things which first struck me when I arrived at Cal State San Bernardino was this university's commitment to community engagement. The robustness of this commitment has continued to grow and develop over the years—even through the COVID 19 pandemic—as students, faculty and staff have sought innovatory ways to serve the people of our region.

It demonstrates to me, over and over again, that the heart of this campus is open and eager to help. As we are an anchor institution in the Inland Empire, this ethos remains incredibly important.

Therefore, I invite you to join me for my final year of volunteering at Coyote Cares Day - February 28, 2026. Whether you can assist me with packing food for our regional partners in need, or are able to participate in other volunteer activities that day, I would be deeply grateful.

It would mean a great deal to me to share this final Coyote Cares Day with you. Thank you for the compassion, energy and commitment you bring to our university and to the Inland Empire. Together, you truly embody the spirit of CSUSB!
