Let's Talk!

Graduate school can be intense, overwhelming, and even isolating. You may find it challenging to find school, work, and life balance and wonder if you are missing the magnificence of the graduate school experience.

Let's Talk is a drop-in support group that has been designed specifically for graduate students. It's a welcoming, safe, and supportive space where graduate students can come together to connect and process challenges and concerns, and share experiences and successes.

Let's Talk will be facilitated by CAPS counselors.
