

CSUSB AS AN INSTITUTION OF ORIGIN FOR DOCTORAL RECIPIENTS

The National Science Foundation (NSF) conducts the Survey of Earned Doctorates (SED) each year of students who filed for a doctoral degree in a U.S. accredited institution. Questions in the survey include the field in which the doctoral degree was earned, the institution from which the degree was earned, and the institutions from which the student received their bachelor's and master's degree. Participation rate has been approximately 93% of all doctoral recipients. Only research degrees are included in the survey. Professional degrees such as MD, DDS, OD, DVM, and JD are excluded. Further information about the survey can be found at <http://www.nsf.gov/statistics/srvydoctorates/>.

SED ranked CSUSB as #62 (of 579) in the number of doctoral recipients between 2002 to 2011 who earned their baccalaureate degree from Carnegie classified "master's colleges and universities" category. This is a rise in ranking from #84 two years ago. Also, SED ranked CSUSB as #34 (of 471) in the number of doctoral recipients between 2002 to 2011 who earned their master's degree from Carnegie classified "master's colleges and universities" category. This is also a rise in ranking from #42 two years ago.

Table 1 shows that, for Carnegie classified "master's colleges and universities" category within California, 203 doctoral recipients in 2002-2011 reported receiving their bachelor's degree from CSUSB, ranking ahead of Sonoma, Dominguez Hills, East Bay, Bakersfield, Stanislaus, and San Marcos.

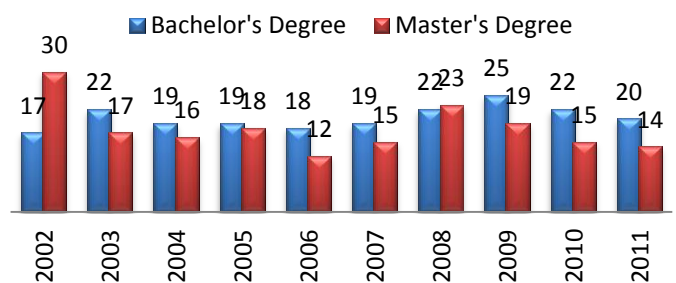

Table 2 displays gains in ranking compared to two years ago by CSU campus as bachelor's degree awarding institution. Larger gains in ranking occurred for San Marcos, San Bernardino, Dominguez Hills, Bakersfield, Los Angeles, Sonoma, and Fullerton.

Table 3 shows that, for Carnegie classified "master's colleges and universities" category within California, 179 doctoral recipients in 2002-2011 reported receiving their master's degree from CSUSB, ranking ahead of East Bay, Chico, San Luis Obispo, Pomona, Sonoma, Bakersfield, Stanislaus, and San Marcos.

Table 4 indicates gains in ranking compared to two years ago by CSU campus as master's degree awarding institution. Larger gains in ranking occurred for San Marcos, Sonoma, Bakersfield, San Bernardino, and Pomona.

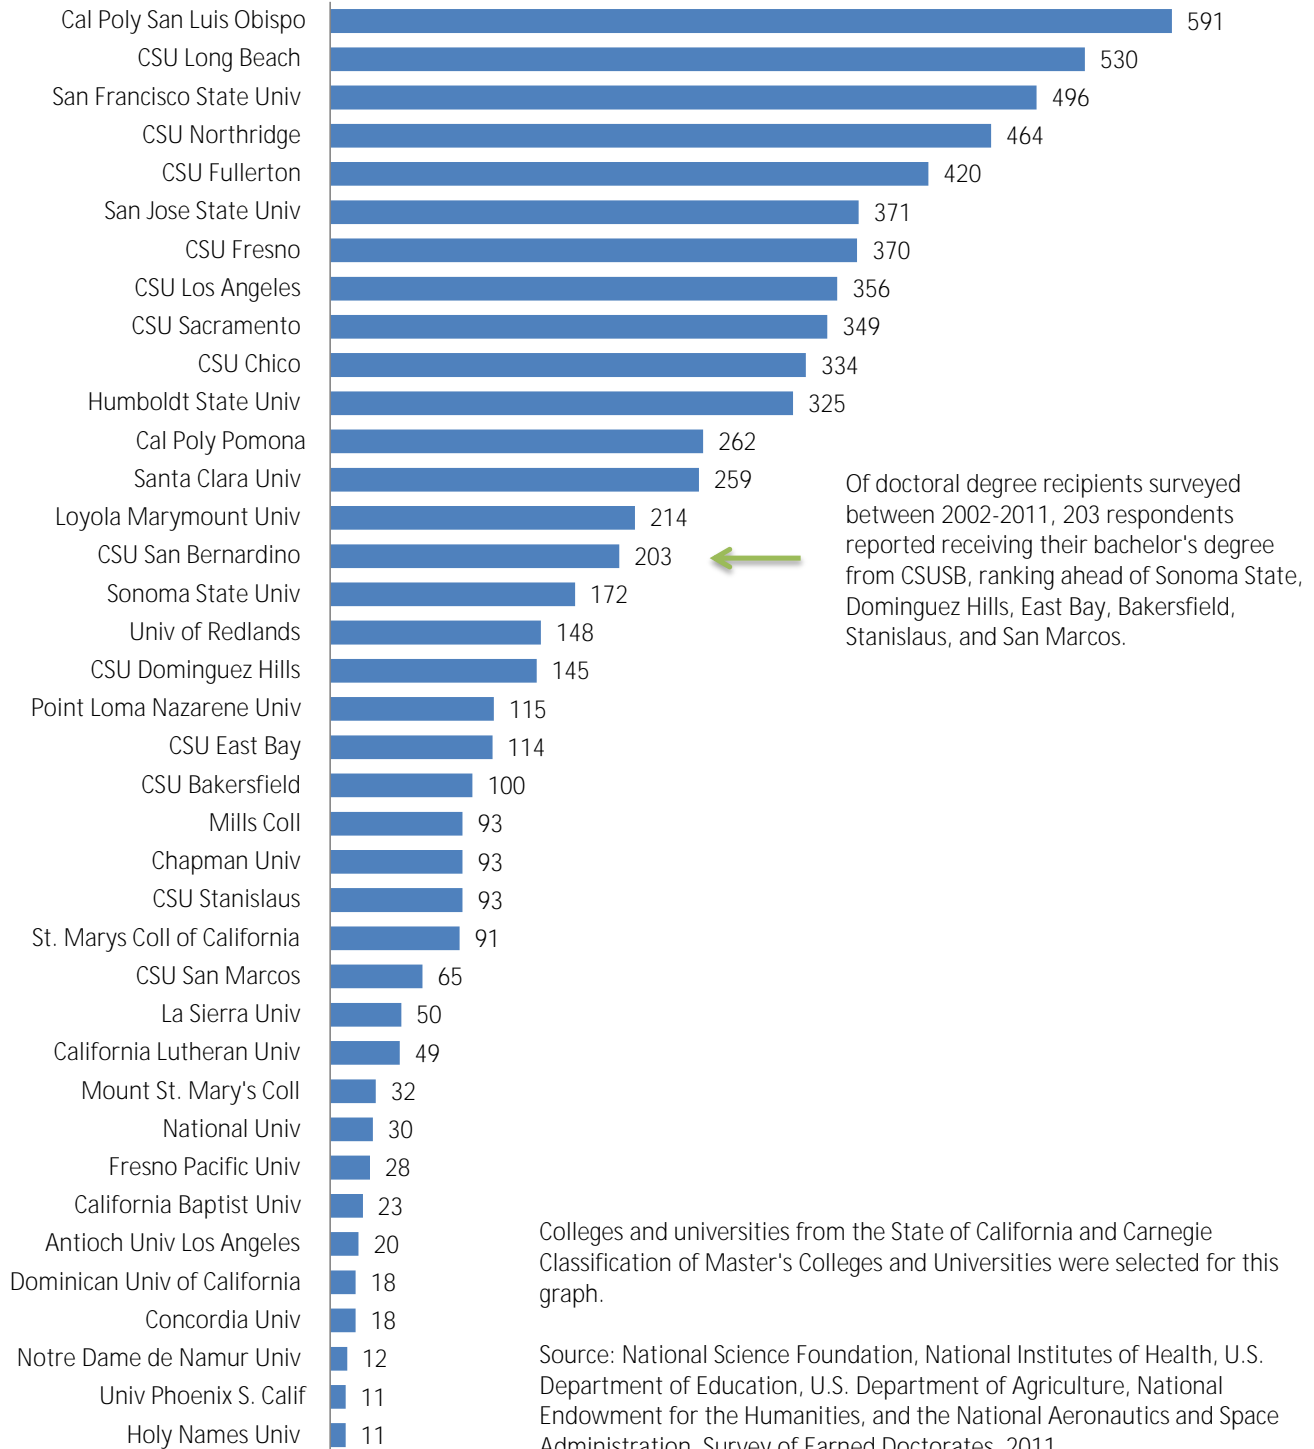

Graph below shows a steady number of doctoral recipients each year reporting that CSUSB was the degree granting institution for their bachelor's and master's degrees. This suggests preparedness for doctoral studies.

CSUSB as a Baccalaureate and Master's Institution

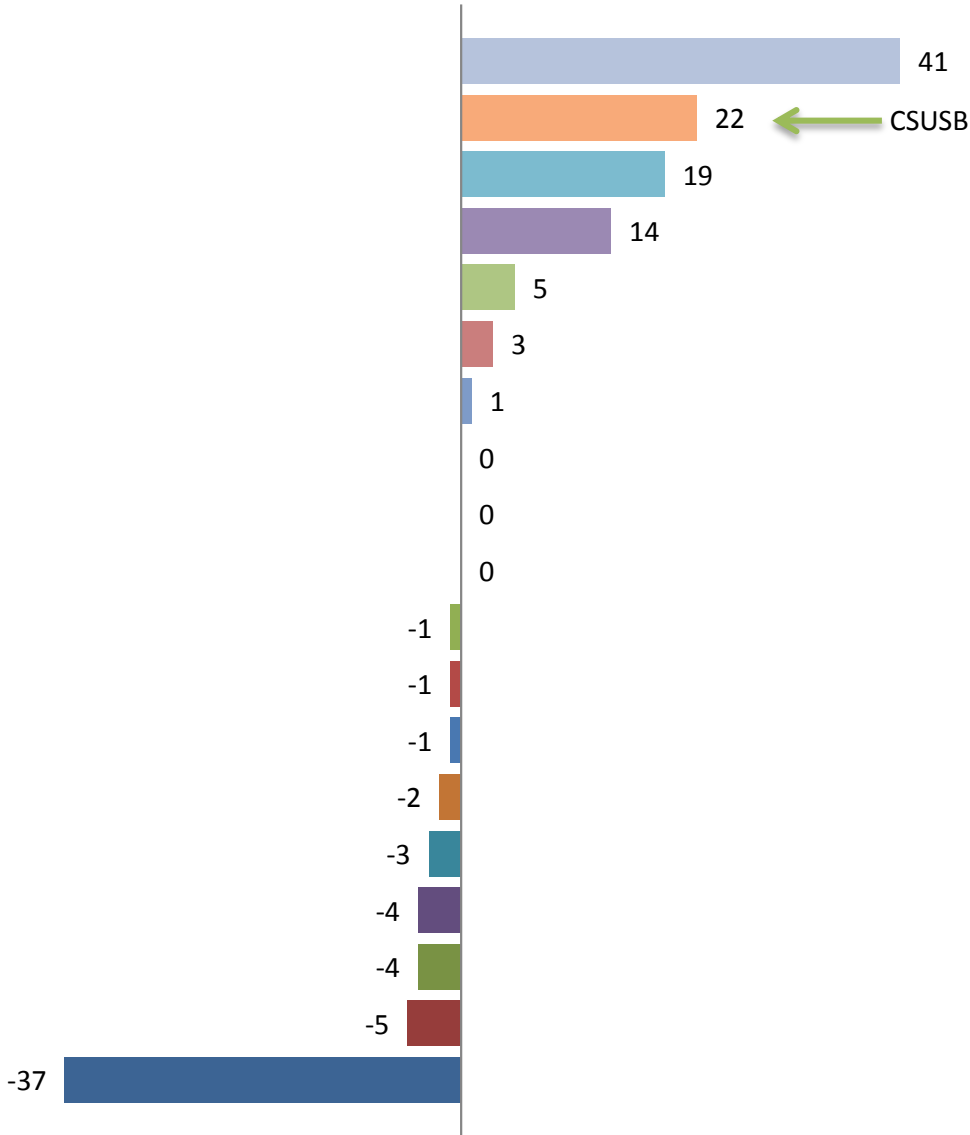

By: Muriel C. Lopez-Wagner
November 14, 2013
CSUSB Office of Institutional Research

Table 1: Baccalaureate Institutions of Doctoral Recipients, 2002–2011
California Colleges & Universities

Table 2: Baccalaureate Institutions of Doctoral Recipients, 2002 and 2011 Gains in Ranking by CSU Campus

- |                            |                            |                       |
|----------------------------|----------------------------|-----------------------|
| ■ CSU San Marcos           | ■ CSU San Bernardino       | ■ CSU Dominguez Hills |
| ■ CSU Bakersfield          | ■ CSU Los Angeles          | ■ Sonoma State Univ   |
| ■ CSU Fullerton            | ■ San Francisco State Univ | ■ CSU Long Beach      |
| ■ Cal Poly San Luis Obispo | ■ San Jose State Univ      | ■ CSU Northridge      |
| ■ CSU Fresno               | ■ CSU Chico                | ■ CSU Stanislaus      |
| ■ Humboldt State Univ      | ■ CSU Sacramento           | ■ Cal Poly Pomona     |
| ■ CSU East Bay             |                            |                       |

Table 3: Masters Institutions of Doctoral Recipients, 2002–2011
California Colleges & Universities

Table 4: Masters Institutions of Doctoral Recipients, 2002 and 2011 Gains in Ranking by CSU Campus

- |                            |                     |                       |
|----------------------------|---------------------|-----------------------|
| ■ CSU San Marcos           | ■ Sonoma State Univ | ■ CSU Bakersfield     |
| ■ CSU San Bernardino       | ■ Cal Poly Pomona   | ■ CSU Dominguez Hills |
| ■ Cal Poly San Luis Obispo | ■ CSU Stanislaus    | ■ Humboldt State Univ |
| ■ CSU Fresno               | ■ CSU East Bay      | ■ CSU Sacramento      |
| ■ San Francisco State Univ | ■ CSU Northridge    | ■ CSU Los Angeles     |
| ■ CSU Long Beach           | ■ CSU Fullerton     | ■ CSU Chico           |
| ■ San Jose State Univ      |                     |                       |

