

The CSUSB Modern China Lecture Series Presents:
What do you think?

A conversation with visual artist, Li Huai

Thursday May 25, 2017

“As an artist and educator, critical thinking has always been a vital element in my work. By presenting and responding to questions in my evolving work, organic communications are formed, exchanged, and developed, and the relationships between spectators and my creations become meaningful and playful experiences.”

Co-Sponsors: CSUSB History Department, History Club/Phi Alpha Theta, the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences, the College of Extended Learning. The Center for Global Management/College of Business and Public Administration, Pfau Library, and the Intellectual Life Fund. Thanks also to Pamela Crosson (History), Kameran Bateman (Pfau), Alan Llavore (Strategic Communications), and James Trotter (ATI), Please contact Jeremy Murray (History) with questions at jmurray@csusb.edu

Li Huai received her BA in fine arts at the Beijing Film Academy and her MFA in art at the California Institute of the Arts. She is on the faculty of the Visual Arts Department at the University of California, San Diego.
